Summary

I'm a student interested in cybersecurity, digital design, and building useful projects. I enjoy learning by doing, sharing what I learn, and working with people who bring different ideas to the table. Through my student ambassador work, I've gained experience communicating with students, supporting events, and working with teams. I'm also building Twilr Production, where I'm exploring design, content, and digital growth. Alongside this, I've been developing my cybersecurity knowledge through regular study and hands-on practice. I'm still early in my career, and I'm focused on building practical skills and doing work I can show. I'm open to internships, projects, collaborations, and opportunities to learn from experienced people. If you're working on something in cybersecurity, technology, or digital media, I'd be glad to connect.

Experience

LBEF College

President

September 2026 - Present (1 month)

As President of the LBEF Entrepreneur Club, I lead the executive team in building a space where students can explore ideas, develop practical skills, and connect with others who are interested in entrepreneurship.

My responsibilities include setting the club's priorities, planning activities with the team, coordinating with college representatives, and supporting member engagement. I also help create opportunities for students to share ideas, learn from different perspectives, and gain experience in teamwork, leadership, and problem-solving.

I aim to make the club an active and welcoming community where students feel confident taking their first steps from discussing an idea to working together on a project.
